

ACOUSTIC CONSULTANTS – WE'RE HIRING

Acoustic Studio serves as the vehicle for our talented team to bring their complementary skills together and to share their passion for acoustics and design. We value teamwork, flexibility and balance, and we have a lot of fun working with great clients on iconic projects.

Acoustic Studio was established in 2003 by Peter Griffiths. The firm has since grown significantly, and we have a strong forward work program with key roles on some of Australia's most exciting infrastructure and building projects, including performing arts. We are looking to expand our team and have a number of opportunities for capable and enthusiastic people.

We understand that life changes and you don't always end up where you thought you would. We are a diverse team with backgrounds in engineering, science, architecture, music and environmental management. We also love to partner with innovative companies to expand our reach and capabilities and draw on cutting edge technology to stay at the forefront of acoustics.

We value collaboration and actively seek diversity in our people and skills. We pay well. We support flexible working and true balance. We foster growth and support further education and training. We prioritise interesting work that challenges us and allows us to develop. We practice what we preach, and we strive for excellence in everything we do.

If you join us, you'll be involved in all aspects of acoustic consultancy. Field work, design, analysis, modelling, project management, and collaboration with clients, suppliers and design teams. Each member of our team is involved across all tasks – there's no hierarchy or bureaucracy.

We're not looking to fill a particular role – we're looking for the right people. People that we want to work with, and who will bring their passion, diversity, and creativity to join our friendly and close-knit team, and to grow with us. We're based in Sydney, but you don't need to be. Our projects span the whole region, and we actively support remote working.

Whether you're a fresh graduate or a seasoned consultant, if Acoustic Studio sounds like a fit for you then please get in touch. Send your CV to mail@acousticstudio.com.au and let's start the conversation.
